Rye still rising.

By Cable and Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 15.—The grain market here is very excited; rye for August delivery, which closed yesterday at 240 marks, is now quoted at 260 marks; September and October delivery advanced from 232 marks, the closing price yesterday, and is now quoted at 245 marks, 50 pfennige. August wheat advanced 14 marks, 50 pfennige from yesterday's closing, the price now being 244 marks; September and October advanced and are now quoted at 237 marks, 50 pfennige, a rise of 12 marks from yesterday's closing.

The North German Gazette, the official organ of the government, to-day says the government will resolutely adhere to its decision to make no reduction in duties levied upon grain imported into Germany. The government is now held responsible for the advance in the price in the grain market, the allegation of it being a ruthless speculation for a rise could not have proceeded in such absolute security had it not been for the Chancellor's positive statement to the Diet that there was no reason to fear the export of rye from Russia would fall.

After many fluctuations the market closed strong, with August rye at 250 marks, and September and October at 243 marks, 50 pfennige. August wheat closed at 242 marks, September and October at 235 marks.

Damage from Hail.

By Associated Press.
ST. CLOUD (Minn.), Aug. 15.—The storm proved to have been more serious than at first supposed. All corn and standing grain in its path is utterly ruined, immense hail stones crushing them to the ground, and grain in shocks also suffered severely. Men in the fields were badly bruised and cut about the head by hail. In some places the hail was fifteen to twenty inches deep on a level. All the windows exposed to the side of storm were smashed.

WILLMAR (Minn.), Aug. 15.—The hail storm which passed over the eastern portion of this country cut down the standing grain. The storm was furious. It rooted up trees and broke down sheds. The hail broke a number of windows.

Land Sales in Ireland.

By Cable and Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 15.—The first large estate in Ireland to come under the operations of the Irish land purchase act is that of Lord Lurgan, situated in County Armagh and County Down. An agreement has been entered into between his Lordship and 806 tenants living upon his estate by which the latter agree to purchase the property under the provisions of the land purchase bill. The price agreed upon is £235,000.

A Trieste Firm Fails.

By Cable and Associated Press.
VIENNA, Aug. 12.—Morpreigo & Co. of Trieste, who failed a few days ago, owe Rothschild's $875,000. The latter sent Herr Blum to inquire into the position of the firm's affairs, and have declined advance further loans unless the firm's business is liquidated and Blum appointed liquidator.

Special to the GAZETTE.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Forecast, light rain at Yuma and vicinity.

Grain Market.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Wheat unsettled, cash, $1 07 1/4 @ 1 07 3/4; September, $1 04 1/4; December, $1 06 1/4; corn excited, cash, 64 1/2.

The excitement to-day in wheat cannot be sacrificed to any one thing. Its synthesis is the world-wide agitation on the question of breadstuffs, including rye and wheat. Russia, France, Germany, Austria, Hungary and India have short crops. All foreign markets are excitedly higher, and America, as the only country which has full crops, counts on profiting by European and Asiatic scarcity. This, in brief, seems to be the sentiment prevalent on the board here. As the session drew on toward a close, traders were desirous of evening up their trades, and the consequence was that from the extreme high point, $1 09, the market broke off to $1 05. September corn in the meantime, under a like influence, sold off from 65c to 62c. There was a rally in December wheat to $1 00 1/2, at which point it closed.

London Gossip.

By Cable and Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 15.—A London correspondent of the Times at Constantinople says: "The Porte requests me to declare that Dalziel's telegram, published in the Times of August 7th, reporting the signature of a protocol recognizing Prince Ferdinand, is utterly without foundation."

Dybrowsky, the explorer, telegraphs from De Brazzaville, West Africa, that the failure of Crampel's mission is certain. Crampel is in command of an expedition sent out by the French government to Lake Chad. In June the last report was received that Crampel and the members of the expedition had been killed, roasted and eaten by the natives. This report, however, was subsequently denied by De Brazzaville.

Dismantling a Mill.

The Chronicle of Virginia City last night says: The dismantling of the California pan mill, in the canyon below the Nevada brewery, was begun on Wednesday, preparatory to its entire demolition and will be followed by tearing down the California battery mill of eight stamps, which will be useless after the pan mill is demolished. The mills have been unused since 1878, and the management of their dismantling is done for the purpose of saving $10,000 annually in taxes and wages of watchmen.

To Be Discontinued.

The Electric Light Company are thinking very seriously of discontinuing the incandescent light system and confining themselves exclusively to the arc light. The company claims that they have lost $300 per month since the incandescent was put on the circuit. As they have made several very costly mistakes, poor management may account for the alleged loss.

CHILI REBELS CONFIDENT.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The last mail from Panama brings a copy of the manifesto issued by the executive council of the Chilean revolutionists on June 15th last. The manifesto accuses Balmaceda of lying when he stated that men-of-war of every nation were in pursuit of the insurgent vessels and had captured some of them. The acts of Balmaceda, both military and civil, are mentioned in a sarcastic manner. Speaking of Balmaceda's policy, the manifesto adds:

"The dictator squandered twenty million dollars in the national vaults by previous administrations; he emitted twelve million dollars in paper money, and has recently been authorized by his so-called Congress to bait six million more; and besides all this, he uses twenty million, more unfairly appropriated from issues of the banks. This vast amount of money has not been used to purchase war materials with which to resist revolution, but has been spent in paying spies and bribing. Naturally and logically the credit of Chili will suffer in foreign markets from the effects of such proceedings."

Three important things are needful; the opposition may speedily reach the desired end. First, to put the land forces in motion; second, to perfect the organization of forces and third, to attack tyranny in its own locality. The first two have already been accomplished. It only remains now to attack tyranny in his own den and the hour draws near. The dictator in contemplating the fate that threatens him, essayed a new intrigue to delay the evil day and proposed an armistice to the Congressional party through the American Admiral. The leaders of the revolution refused it with contempt. We ask our friends to have entire confidence in the outcome."

Divorce in High Life.

By Associated Press.

WINNIPEG (Man.), Aug. 15.—A divorce suit, which, from the prominence of the principals, will make it one of the most noted ever tried by the Canadian Senate, has been begun by J. A. M. Aikens, Q. C. of this city, for a divorce from his wife, on the grounds of adultery, desertion and bigamy. The plaintiff is the head of the leading law firm of Winnipeg and a prominent and wealthy citizen. He is the son of Hon. J. C. Aikens, ex-member of the Dominion Cabinet and ex-Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba. Seven years ago he married to his only daughter of Hon. A. W. N. McLellan, Minister of Finance for Canada and recently Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, and one of the wealthiest men in the maritime provinces.

AS THE day draws near for the opening of the State campaign in Ohio, National interests in the result of that battle grows more and more intense. Not, indeed, that the Democrats in their most sanguine mood expect the election of Campbell, nor that the Republicans in their most dismal moment anticipate the defeat of McKinley. The result as between the two tickets seem to be generally considered a foregone conclusion.

But there are interesting side issues that are bound to have an effect not only upon this election but upon the greater struggle that comes on next year. The unrelenting hostility which the Democracy of Cincinnati feel for Governor Campbell is but thinly masked by their lukewarm abhorrence to his cause. Ordinarily a Democrat will swallow anything—personal dislike, absolute enmity, nay, he will make a stagger at taking down a yellow dog—if it is only offered him under the label, "Democratic ticket." Sometimes, however, there is a nausea too strong to be overcome, and then the unpalatable morsel is rejected. Cleveland had the experience in New York, and Campbell is likely to have it in Ohio. He will be knifed.

On the other hand, the fight of the Farmers' Alliance against Senator Sherman is becoming interesting. Simpson, Jeremiah, has vowed by the bare feet of him that he will have John's scalp. A large-lunged woman by the name of Gougar has sworn a similar oath, with the amendment that she is also on the trail of McKinley. So far as reported, however, the Alliance is restricting its effort to the capture of the legislature—with the gubernatorial quarrel it will have nothing to do.

It is the meteoric entrance of this third party upon the scene which lends increased interest to the contest. Probably no State election in the history of the nation will be watched more closely than that in the Buckeye State this fall.

ALDERMAN BOWES of Kansas City astonished the denizens of the city of saloons a few days ago by introducing an ordinance providing that after January 1, 1892, all who drink liquors shall pay a tax into the city treasury for the privilege. Drinkers are divided into four classes: Beer drinkers, beer and wine, excepting champagne; beer, wine and whisky; champagne. The first is rated at $20 a year and the others respectively at $25, $30 and $50. This ordinance will not do, for since the great collapse in real estate the people of Kansas City have had to forego their favorite drinks. They will not be likely to take kindly to a tax for revenue only.

WHO has not witnessed with amusement the manifestations of angry jealousy by a poodle at witnessing the caresses bestowed by its master or mistress on some other domestic favorite? The comparison may be a little far-fetched, but the action of the California press towards the Chronicle in the matter of the appointment of a Chief to the Horticultural Bureau for the World's Fair forces it upon us.

A GEORGIA man, in selecting the ten greatest men in history, has found nine of them to be: Moses, St. Paul, Julius Caesar, Martin Luther, William the Silent, Shakespeare, Cromwell, Peter the Great and Napoleon. Well, isn't there a place to be found in the list for Aristotle, Columbus or Washington?

COURTROOM COSTUMES.

Fine Clothes Employed to Influence the Judge and Jury.

Although a woman's gown frequently deserve and receive honorable mention, like a brand of baking-powder at a national exhibit, there are only three times in her life—it may be four if she is American—when they are entered for the blue ribbon, says a writer in the New York Recorder. These are important occasions, and these gowns are the result of anxious thought and laborious research in the fields of gown literature. First, the dress she wears as a debutante; secondly, the wedding gown. The third gown is worn by the young mother when she receives the relatives and friends who have come to offer their congratulations to her and their gifts to her firstborn child. Debutante, bride and mother! A woman may be all these, and in America she frequently is something more—divorced. Her frocks are not unimportant factors, and I am irresistibly reminded of a trunkful of dresses I saw last week which are to play a prominent part in a big divorce case soon.

"What a heap of pretty frocks," I said.

"Yes," my friend replied. "Horribly expensive, and I couldn't well afford them either, but business is business. You know, these are my stock in trade. They're very sympathetic gowns, I must say. The designer caught my eye perfectly."

"Sympathetic gowns? Stock in trade? What do you mean?" I gasped.

"What do I mean? Why, stupid, these are to wear at the trial."

"Oh, dear me! All those!"

"Yes, all those. Now, here's this black one," said she, talking like Rosina Vokes in one of her soliloquies. "I shall wear this the first day. It makes me look pale, and has a crimp, mournful air about it that will make a favorable first impression on the court. I wish them to understand that the defendant has wrecked my young life.

"Sympathetic gowns? Stock in trade? What do you mean?" I gasped.

A Missouri paper calls for the best essay on "How to Raise a Boy." The best and quickest way is to show him a telegraph pole just outside of a baseball ground. The Riverside hotel sets a good table at this.

From San Antonio.

AGU HORNUNG, a well known manufacturer of boots and shoes at 280 Nolan St., San Antonio, Texas, will not soon forget his experience with an attack of the cramps which he relates as follows: "I was taken with a violent cramp in the stomach, had it not been for the prompt use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea remedy. I followed it up in 30 minutes with a second dose, and before the doctor could get to where I was, I did not need him. The Remnant will give the name of the days of my family." For sale by J. B. McCullough, Druggist.

Make Yourself a New Body.

Purge away the old, diseased and worn out body, said Dr. Brandreth. Replace the discharged matter of the system with good, simple food and thus build up a new and sound body in place of one feeble and diseased. Every man should know that he must be "renewed" at least once in two or three years, else he would soon break down completely. This renewing process is easily brought about by purging with Brandreth's Pills. They put new life into old bodies.

Brandreth's Pills are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless and safe to take at any time.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

DIPHTHERIA.

A Valuable Treatment on Its Restriction and Prevention.
Diphtheria is so frequently malignant and fatal in its effects that the California State Board of Health, in the exercise of its functions in the restriction and prevention of disease, deems it necessary to furnish the public with information with reference to the manner of its propagation, coupled with such suggestions concerning the best known methods of limiting its progress, as any person of average intelligence may easily put into practical use, and in view of the fact that we have no State Board of Health, but have diphtheria in our midst, the recommendations of the California Board are given to the public.

It should be generally understood that diphtheria is a contagious and infectious disease, which attacks by preference the young, and especially those whose vital resistance has been reduced by exposure to filth, uncleanness, the emanations from sewers, drains, and all unsanitary influences.

The infectious substance of diphtheria is conveyed from the mouth, nose, air passages, and discharges of the bowels of those who have the disease. It is believed, with some reason, that the perspiration and urine may contain it. Domestic animals, such as cats, dogs, chickens and tame pigeons are credited with carrying the disease from one person to another, either by having the disease themselves, or because of having been handled by persons who were afflicted with it. It may be transmitted in water, milk or other liquids, or in food or clothing, or by kissing a person who has a sore throat without suspicion that it is diphtheria.

The secretions of the mouth and nose of a diphtheritic patient, mixed, as they most necessarily be, with the exudative deposit, are often allowed to fall upon the bedclothes and carpets, when they dry and remain for an indefinite length of time. These are liable to be detached by the friction of the fabric, or the shuffling of feet upon the floor, when the poison rises as dust in fine particles, and lodges in the throat, nose, windpipe or stomach of the person who may expire the air so contaminated.

Some persons have much vital resistance to disease that it does not take root and develop. Others, however, have the susceptibility to its growth and fatal effects.

It should be remembered that a malignant form of the disease may be contracted from a person having it in a very mild form.

Expose to an atmosphere contaminated by the body of a person who has died of diphtheria is extremely dangerous.

The following rules and precautions should be observed:

1. Whenever diphtheria is known to be in the neighborhood, all children with sore throats should be kept apart from other children until a competent physician has determined that the sore throat is not diphtheria.

2. Persons with diphtheria should be placed in a room in the upper story of the house, if convenient, as remote as possible from direct communication with others, and access should be denied to all but the necessary attendants.

3. All superfluous furniture, including carpets, curtains, clothing and books, should be removed from the apartment. There should be free ventilation without drafts.

4. A card with "diphtheria" printed in large type should be placed in a conspicuous position on the house, and no child should be allowed to enter.

5. No food or drink that has been exposed to the atmosphere of the sickroom should be used by well persons, and the dishes used in the sickroom should be washed separately.

6. Neither the bed clothes nor the patient's body linen should be mixed with other soiled clothes or admitted to the general wash until they are first disinfected.

7. Under no circumstances should a public funeral be held of a person dead of diphtheria. Neither must children be permitted to attend. Upon this point health officials cannot be too firm and unyielding. All personal considerations and sentiment must be subordinated to considerations of public safety.

The importance of this course should be explained by the medical profession to clergymen of all denominations, and their influence and co-operation earnestly solicited, in order that the objections and prejudices of the careless and uninformed may be more easily overcome.

The discharge from the nose and throat are highly contagious, they should be received on cloths, which should be immediately burned. The urine, vomited matter, and discharges from the bowels should be received in a vessel containing a solution of chloride of lime in the proportion of six or eight or more tablespoonfuls in a gallon of soft water. They should be allowed to remain in this solution at least fifteen minutes before being deposited in a privy vault or water-closet.

The soiled linen, clothing and towels should, if possible, be boiled in hot water for thirty minutes before leaving the room; but if this is inconvenient, a solution of sulphate of zinc (white vitrol) should be made by dissolving half a pound of the zinc with six tablespoonfuls of common table salt in a gallon of water, in which the clothes should be soaked two hours before being washed.

In addition to these precautions the cellar, privies, water-closets, cesspools, drains, sewers and all other probable sources of filth, should be cleaned and treated to a solution of coppers. Stagnant water should be drained. Let the sunshine into the rooms of the house, and remember that pure water, pure air and sunshine are the greatest natural preventives of contagious disease.

TOURISTS.

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Pigs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectively, on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, rheumatism and other forms of disease. For sale in 50 cent and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

DOUGLAS COUNTY.

ITS DIVERSIFIED INTERESTS, FARMS MINES AND LIVE STOCK.

The Genoa Courier of yesterday contains the following:

The golden grain is ripening fast and some in high places has already been cut. A good crop is assured.

An elderly man by the name of Robert Long was arrested this week on a charge of selling liquor to Indians.

We are glad that contracts are being let to sink shafts in the new camp at Pine Nut. Persistent work is all that is needed to make a lively mining camp in the Pine Nut country, and that is all that will make it.

A band of 3,500 sheep belonging to Antoine Maestretti passed through town Tuesday on their way to Lander county in this State. They were from Sacramento county and came over by way of Hope Valley.

At Pine Nut a short time ago, bringing with him twenty dozen frogs imported from Paris. He turned them loose in the swamp and springs about the fields and expects to harvest a good crop next year.

In selecting H. H. Springmeier and D. B. Park as delegates from this county to the Irrigation Convention to be held in Salt Lake City on September 15th, Governor Colcord made an excellent selection. It is to be hoped that both of these gentlemen will attend.

CAPTAIN DAVE.

A PLATE WHO IS AT THE HEAD OF THE TRIBE.

The following cut is a very good picture of one of Nevada's native sons, a man who is respected and trusted by every Indian in the land. It is Na-na-na (the father of his tribe) or Captain Dave, Chief of Police, at the PYRAMID RESERVATION.

Captain Dave is also Chief Justice of the court before whom petty offences are tried. He is about 55 years of age and a man of very remarkable intelligence. He is at the head of the Pinto tribe, and has been for the past eight years, having succeeded young Winnemucca who died about ten years ago and George Curry who went to the happy hunting grounds about nine years ago.

PERSONALS.

M. D. Foley returned this morning from San Francisco.

Arch Farrington arrived last night and is a guest at the Riverside.

J. D. Kersey, Assessor of Ormsby county, passed through returning home this morning from San Francisco.

Senator Evan Williams of Ormsby, with Sam Jones and Lon Hamilton, formed a trio bound for San Francisco last night.

Captain P. J. Dunne was a passenger on this morning's overland going to Ogden to attend the session of the Grand Lodge of A. O. U. W.

Russell J. Wilson, the attorney for Timothy Hopkins, the adopted son of Mrs. Hopkins-Searles, was a passenger east this morning en route to New York in the interest of his client. It looks very much as if he would fly in his time, and in '62 was occupied by a good opportunity.

An Old Landmark.

The Nevada Bank building in Virginia City is undergoing repairs, and the Chronicle says: "The building is one of the oldest on the Comstock, having been built in 1861—thirty years ago. The lime, cement and various other materials used in its construction are packed over the mountains on mule-back, and many difficulties were undergone before its completion. The building has been put to many uses in its time, and in '62 was occupied by a good opportunity.

8. No person recently recovered from diphtheria should attend school, church or other public assemblies until declared by a competent physician to be no longer capable of transmitting the contagion.

9. Under no circumstances should a public funeral be held of a person dead of diphtheria. Neither must children be permitted to attend. Upon this point health officials cannot be too firm and unyielding. All personal considerations and sentiment must be subordinated to considerations of public safety.

The importance of this course should be explained by the medical profession to clergymen of all denominations, and their influence and co-operation earnestly solicited, in order that the objections and prejudices of the careless and uninformed may be more easily overcome.

INDIANS OWN A TITAN.

The Great Art Treasure Hidden Away in a Mexican Village Church.

Taintzuntzan was once a great city and the capital of Tzecan kings; now only a straggling village with a group of ruined churches. I made my way quickly to the old tower where the Titan treasure is, the populace following in my wake or gazing after me with wondering eyes, says a writer in the Toronto Globe. My carefully studied salutation in Spanish, a handful of cigars and a bottle of wine soon made the padre and myself the best of friends.
